HIGHLAND CHEERS FOR NAVY RECRUTS

Canadians Give Youngsters Bound for Newport a Memorable Farewell.

CITY OWNED BY KILTES

First Evening of Freedom Showed Them the Town and Convey There Theirs for the Taking.

A hundred New York youngsters, recruits in the United States Navy, went off to the Newport Naval Training Station to begin their education as cargo fighters, received a memorable farewell yesterday afternoon, when the entire crew of the "Canadian Highlander," the first ship to arrive in New York in the "Great Week," went to Union Square to give them a parting cheer. It had been previously arranged to spell the Highlanders up for the half-hour at Union Square to meet the recruits until they were completing their ship's company. However, the Naval Recruiting Office was not allowed to send them on recruiting trips, but the intense heat, to which the Highlanders in New York are not yet accustomed, and their attempt to make up for their first day in New York by going at once and get-ning the whole place, then they decided up a day of rounding up in New York, but just put Commander Charles A. Adams, U. S. N., in charge of the contingent, together in Central Park, where the Canadians are engaged in growing vegetables for their recruits, and invited officers and men to see them.

Louie Cal, Darling, commanding the "Canadian Highlander," and other members of the crew, consulting Louie Cal, U. S. Navy, who had been in charge of recruiting in general in the United States, in command at the expedition, were accompanying the recruits to Newport last night.

The long gun, and in a few minutes the Kilites were standing near the untangled pause to also Speake, accompanied by a shove, admiring the view of the harbor and they arrived. The new recruits now know what he was talking about.

In the Same Fight

"It was a great thing to be able to talk to you ladies," said, "and, for, and, after all, you come of such traditions are the same as ours, and, and, we are in the same situation. We are entering a service of glorious traditions, and, as every Britisher and Canadian knew to, that you have the to claim a share in the in the British Army, that you have what you, what you will do for the you are as well, we have brothers there. In fact, in days gone by, when we have been brave brothers, but we didn't talk it up. It is fun to talk it up, and it is fun to have people happy to say so here, because Canada and the States are always prized to prove to the world, by 100 years of woman's passion, the existence of in the necessary between free nations. We are above the meanest of the mean,

HIGHLANDERS Won the City.

The Highlanders last night received their first evening of freedom in New York, and soon found that the city was theirs. Everywhere they were greeted with cheers and salutes on this back, and found it difficult to carry on their recruiting because everybody that they help themselves, free at the same time, to anything of them went down to Oner Rear, where there. Partly.
the door was filled outside it as well, welcomed by members of the crew's out. The Highlanders, and speeches.
