Short and Entertaining Stories for Little People

Prattle of the Youngsters

Bob, the young man, of course, can't resist telling his younger brother about all the wonderful things he has seen in the city. He tells him about the great battleship Nebraska, which is now stationed in the harbor after its builders' trials.

A Square Range

In the middle of the city, there is a square with a fountain in the center. The fountain is surrounded by a row of tall buildings, each with a different color and style. The children love to play around the fountain, chasing the ducks and feeding the pigeons.

Litter Wild Indians

In the city's zoo, there are several wild animals, including a herd of bison. The children love to watch them run around, kicking up clouds of dust and making loud bellowing noises.

Street Signs

All streets in the city are marked with colorful signs, each with a different shape and design. The children love to follow the signs, trying to guess which way they will lead them.

Great Battleship Nebraska After the Builders' Trial

The Nebraska is a powerful ship, with a long, sleek body and massive guns. The children are amazed by its size and strength, and they can't wait to see what kind of adventures it will go on next.
