WASHINGTON, MONDAY EVENING, JUNE 10, 1907.

REBUKE TO JAPS
IMPENDS
United States Will Pursue Determined Policy.
Orientals Have Imposed on Conciliatory Efforts.
No Further Sacrifice of Self-respect to Be Made.

The United States is going to pursue a new and a more determined policy toward Japan from this time forward.

Every effort atconciliation having weakened as failed to overcome the Latin American people of the world and friendly Intentions of the United States, this country may be expected henceforth to assume a new role, which will be calculated to convince Japan that America is prepared to make an end of all concessions to her.

Governor Forest.
The first move will probably come in the shape of a large presentation to the Japanese Government of a large number of American flag captains, who will be instructed to make no offer of concessions, but to demand an immediate and unconditional withdrawal of Japanese forces from the Korean frontier.
