An arm consists of a main belt from eleven to fourteen inches in thickness. The turrets and bar- bettes are covered with ten-inch and sixteen-inch armor. The conning tower armor is nine inches thick.

The total weight of the armor is about 3,500 gross tons. The main battery consists of four 12-inch breech loading rifles, eight 8-inch breech loading rifles, twelve 4-inch breech loading rapid fire rifles and twelve 3-inch breech loading rapid fire rifles. The secondary battery consists of twelve 3-pounder guns, four 1-pounder automatic guns, four 1-pounder single tubes and six automatic guns. The Georgia is also provided with four submerged torpedo tubes.

A wealthy Chinese merchant died recently at the age of eighty-one, who left twelve daughters, several of whom are well known Americans. One of the daughters is an American citizen. Rich in wealth, he lived in Honolulu, and was considered the wealthiest Chinaman in the islands. His daughter, who was married to a Chinese man, was richly endowed with gold, and the Chieftain was Aring Ah Fong. Daughter, or Ah Fong, as the name became, whose estate in Honolulu and China, together with ships, railroad stocks and mines, have been valued all the way from El- lowing to Redington. Though he removed the family to Honolulu, Aring Ah Fong, like the late Chinaman, lived his native land best, and in China he spent the later years of his life and died. His widow was the granddaughter of a native Hawaiian woman.

Her father was Abram H. Payerwather, of New York. She now lives in a new house which was built on the site of the old home of the family in Honolulu, and saw the groves of cocoanut trees, where many a courting was begun that ended in an international marriage. Dying alone at the old Honolulu home she left J. Alfred Johnson, of Indiana, a well-known lawyer in Honolulu. Nancy became the wife of Frank H. McRoe, who was once the husband of Julia Loomis. Arthur Johnson, the author, among whose books is one concerning the visit to Robert Louis Stevenson in the Sandwich Islands. The other married daughters are Honolulu, who is the wife of Rear Admiral Whiting, U. S. N.; Maria K., who is married to A. B. Hummings, today a judge in the Supreme Court of Illinois; and Elizabeth, who is the wife of L. B. Hurst of New York; Helen, the widow of W. A. Haysall; a Honolulu lawyer; Caroline, the wife of J. R. Brown of Honolulu; former daughter of the United States Navy; Martha M. the wife of Lieutenant A. J. Dougherty, of the 7th Infantry, U. S. A.; Helen N., who married J. A. H. Hinson; and Martha A. Hinson. The eldest daughter, Mary, aged 79, now lives with her mother in Honolulu.
