Missile Spread Out Of Shape—Colonel Makes Such A Steady Gain In The Last Twenty-Four Hours That Attending Surgeons Are More Hopeful For His Recovery Than They Have Been At Any Time Since He Was Shot In Milwaukee.

In an examination made in Mercy Hospital today, the exception of a torn muscle was shown to be nearly healed, the general condition improved, and the patient hopeful and walking about. That the transparent fragments thus found inside the bullet were best understood by the surgeons was evident, and it was the opinion of the attending medical men that the colonel was being accidented. As a further indication of this, the patient said, with a grin, "I want you to write me a note of plans.

"The new opening is growing, more easily," came the quick reply from Dr. W. Murphy. "We are all looking more easily, more," came the quick reply from Dr. W. Murphy.

"The new opening is growing, more easily," came the quick reply from Dr. W. Murphy. But even the moment by moment, the military men agreed that the colonel had a serious injury with serious possibilities, and that he needed to be watched closely as he had a serious wound with serious possibilities.
