TODAY'S ELECTION IN THE PHILIPPINES

The Philippine Assembly is to meet tomorrow. The Philippines are now under the administration of a temporary government of six presidents, each of whom will hold their office for a year. The elections were to be held on the 30th of July, but the vote was postponed until tomorrow due to the absence of a majority of the members of the assembly. The elections are expected to be held in the near future.

Today's election in the Philippines has been marked by political intrigue and manipulation. The candidates for the presidency are expected to be chosen through a process of negotiation and compromise. The outcome of the election is uncertain, as the political landscape in the Philippines is highly fragmented and divided.
