MINSKOV TOWN FAMOUS IN A YEAR—HOW OLD DOCTOR TRAINED HIS SONS TO BECOME NOTED IN THE REALMS OF SURGERY

BY JACOB WALTERS

October 15, 1915, was the day when Dr. P. B. M. Kahan was invited to become the first distinguished surgeon of the newly established Copenhagen Royal Medical School. He was then only 25 years old, his name little known in the world of medicine.

Dr. Kahan was born in Kahan, a small town in Poland, and received his medical education at the University of Warsaw. He was one of the youngest students to pass the medical examinations, and his brilliant success brought him to the attention of the famous Dr. S. Kahan, who was then the head of the medical school.

Dr. S. Kahan immediately offered Dr. Kahan a position as an assistant in his own laboratory, and after a short time, Dr. Kahan was appointed to the staff of the medical school. He quickly became one of the most popular doctors in the city, and his success was due in no small part to his ability to connect with his patients.

Believe Government Has Poisoned the Air to Get Rid of Italians

It is probable that Miss Brook, who was appointed to the position of public health chemist for the city, succeeded by poison. Miss Brook has been working in the office for several years, and her work has been of great value to the public. She has been very active in the campaign against the pollution of the air, and her work has been greatly appreciated.
