Governor Hoch's Pretty Daughter to Christen the Big Battleship
Kansas at Camden Saturday

MRS. ANNA HOCH

THE UNITED STATES between the Philadelphia Naval Station and the California coast were the scene of events that will be long remembered. Wednesday morning the band of the New York City Police Orchestra, with Miss Anna Hoch, the Governor's daughter, as guest conductor, gave a stirring concert on the steamer Texas, owned by the United States Atlantic Exchange Steamship Company, which is cruising between San Francisco and New York. The performance was given in appreciation of the services rendered by the Navy Department and the people of New York City, and was a fitting testimony to the hospitality of the city.
