BLIMP MAKES SAFE LANDING ON FIELD AT MINEOLA, L. I.

(NeWS FROM LIEUT. COL. L. W. EAHER, CHIEF OF THE SAVAGE AIR SERVICE, U. S. ARMY, IN CHARGE OF THE BOMBING TEAM AT MINEOLA, N. Y.)

The landing of a large American blimp on the grounds of the Savage Air Service at Mineola, L. I., on Saturday, July 6, 1919, is a most encouraging sign of the co-operation between the United States Air Force and the Allied nations in the prosecution of the war. The blimp, which is a large, airship with a crew of six, is equipped with a machine gun and a wireless radio set.

Navy Gets Radios On R-34's Progress

"We are working to it. Think we will get it," was Lieut. G. C. Cooke's reply to a query concerning the progress of the R-34, which was due to arrive in New York on Sunday morning. Mr. E. G. Day, the engineer in charge, was expected to be on hand to explain the workings of the ship.

Handley-Page Aero Can't Finish Flight

PARIS, July 6.—With the Allied peace conference now in full swing, the Handley-Page aeroplane continued its flight from London to Paris yesterday. The aeroplane, which was expected to arrive in Paris today, was carrying a large party of passengers, including the British prime minister, Sir Henry Asquith.

ASTOR SAYS SAILOR STOLE HIS WALLET

NEW YORK, July 6.—A sailor who had good reason to believe that his wallet was stolen by a person in a dress coat, was able to identify the man as the owner of an expensive watch. The sailor, who had been aboard a large steamer, was able to identify the man as Thomas, who had been aboard the same ship the previous night.

GERMAN TROOPS RAID QUETERS OF ILLING

BERLIN, July 6.—An expeditionary force of German troops, consisting of several thousand men, was sent to Quertes, a small town near the Russian border, to quell a rebellion of German farmers. The German troops, who were under the command of General von Bülow, were able to suppress the rebellion after a brief engagement.

Hindenburg Would Die for Ex-Kaiser

BERLIN, July 6.—General Hindenburg, who was the former commander-in-chief of the German armed forces, stated yesterday that he would die for the ex-Kaiser, who had been captured by the Allies. The general, who had been prominent in the military affairs of the Reich, stated that he would not bear any responsibility for the conduct of the war.

PHILLIPS WITNESSES HESSIAN GODLESSNESS

BERLIN, July 6.—Mr. Hessen, a Hessian missionary, was witnessed by Mr. Phillips, who was in attendance at the Hessian station. Mr. Phillips stated that the Hessian mission had failed to address the needs of the people of the station.

GERMANY READY TO BEGIN PAYING

BERLIN, July 6.—The German government has announced that it is ready to begin paying its debts to other nations. The government, which has long been delinquent in its payments, has now decided to begin making payments.

LITTLE TALKS

No. 10

LET'S suppose you have a room for rent. There are several ways in which you can let people know about it.

First, you can tell all of your friends. And you can ask them to tell all of their friends. Maybe, if you're lucky enough, somebody will eventually be found who will come and take a look at that room.

Or you can put little classified signs in your window downstairs, reading: "Room For Rent." Hundreds of people pass your house every day. Possibly one out of every hundred will see the sign, and one of every thousand will be looking for a room.

Both of these ways are expensive. They're all right, too—that is, if you don't care whether you rent that room next week, or Christmas after next Christmas.

But most people who have rooms for rent want to rent them as quickly as possible. How can you reach the people who are looking for rooms in your area? Let me tell you: THROUGH THE CLASSIFIED COLUMNS OR THE LITTLE TALKS—LET'S HUNT AND REACH THE VERY PEOPLE YOU WANT TO REACH. AND THAT METHOD IS INEXPENSIVE ALSO.

By just by it. Next time you want to rent a room, phone a little West Ad to The Times. People who want a room will see this at SUCHTIME THEY ARE LOOKING FOR IT, and—well, then it's up to you to take care of them when they write or call.