HOW NAVY WILL MEET NEED FOR MEN BEHIND THE GUNS

Measures to Secure the 33,000 Recruits Called For in the Nation's First Line of Defence

By ROBERT G. KEEKETT.

The secret of the navy's current recruiting drive lies in the Presidential order issued some months ago which authorizes the raising of a fleet of 33,000 men, and the commissioning of ships for the service of the fleet. The recruiting drive is not a new one, but it is different from previous drives in that it is aimed at the evolution of the fleet of 33,000 men, and the commissioning of ships for the service of the fleet.

The recruiting drive is not a new one, but it is different from previous drives in that it is aimed at the evolution of the fleet of 33,000 men, and the commissioning of ships for the service of the fleet. The recruiting drive is not a new one, but it is different from previous drives in that it is aimed at the evolution of the fleet of 33,000 men, and the commissioning of ships for the service of the fleet.

The recruiting drive is not a new one, but it is different from previous drives in that it is aimed at the evolution of the fleet of 33,000 men, and the commissioning of ships for the service of the fleet. The recruiting drive is not a new one, but it is different from previous drives in that it is aimed at the evolution of the fleet of 33,000 men, and the commissioning of ships for the service of the fleet.

THE SIGNAL DIVISION OF A NAVAL SHIP, WHICH FASTNESS, PRECISION, AND THE SHARPEST EYES ARE INDEPENDENT.

THE BLUE JACKET MAKES A BRIGHT SOLDIER, HIS SHARP BATTLE AND FOUGHT AS SERIOUSLY AS A REAL CONFLICT.