GUARDING LIFE AND PROPERTY IN VERA CRUZ

PHILIP C. HANNA

- The upper photograph shows American sharpshooters on the roof of a Vera Cruz building ready to pick off Mexican solders. Below are shown Mexican guards watching from behind temporary breastworks.

SENIOR DON JUAN RIANO

- This photograph shows bread being taken from the new type of food ovens by the Americans now in Vera Cruz.

BURNING OUT VERA CRUZ SNIPERS

- During the taking of Vera Cruz, the Americans were harassed by the shots of Mexican snipers, who were picking off bystanders and in other places. The following scene was necessary to clear the buildings where these sharpshooters were concealed.