The Markets

Portland Markets.

Three-Way Trade: 6,252 Cases of College Blend to Holland; 12,920 Cases of Brazil to France; 1,693 Cases of Louisiana Tea for France.

The Portland steadied as follows today: Cotton at 2.05 to 2.08 cents; Stock, 35c.; Flour, 10c.; Sugar, 10c.; Wools, 10c.; Hogs, 10c.; Butter, 10c.; Eggs, 10c.; Pork, 10c.; Yeast, 10c.

Topknot is 40c. to 45c.

FISHERMAN'S VERSE.

To the open sea he hies,
Awestruck, on the briny waves.
Sand and sea, and sun and breeze
Beautify his days and nights.

As the sun sets, and the moon rises,
He dreams of this open sea.

And when he's home, he'll tell his wife
All the wonders of the sea.

The Cities' Affairs.

Charleston, Oct. 7, 1877. The mayor of Charleston, S.C., has issued a proclamation ordering all persons to obey the laws of the city, or be subject to punishment.

The mayor stated that the city had been lately the scene of disorder and that the people were now invited to obey the laws and prevent further disorder.

The mayor also stated that the city had been recently the scene of disorder and that the people were now invited to obey the laws and prevent further disorder.

The mayor stated that the city had been recently the scene of disorder and that the people were now invited to obey the laws and prevent further disorder.

THE OPEN FORUM.

Why do people like to live in the country?

It is said that people like to live in the country because it is quieter and more peaceful.

This is not true. People like to live in the country because it is cheaper.

People like to live in the country because they can grow their own food and have a garden.

People like to live in the country because they can have more space and privacy.

People like to live in the country because they can have more freedom and independence.

People like to live in the country because they can have more peace and quiet.

People like to live in the country because they can have more fresh air and sunshine.

People like to live in the country because they can have more exercise and outdoor activities.

People like to live in the country because they can have more relaxation and leisure time.

People like to live in the country because they can have more freedom to express themselves.

People like to live in the country because they can have more freedom to do what they want.

People like to live in the country because they can have more freedom to be who they are.

People like to live in the country because they can have more freedom to be themselves.

People like to live in the country because they can have more freedom to be free.

People like to live in the country because they can have more freedom to be free.

People like to live in the country because they can have more freedom to be free.

People like to live in the country because they can have more freedom to be free.

People like to live in the country because they can have more freedom to be free.

People like to live in the country because they can have more freedom to be free.

People like to live in the country because they can have more freedom to be free.

People like to live in the country because they can have more freedom to be free.

People like to live in the country because they can have more freedom to be free.

People like to live in the country because they can have more freedom to be free.

People like to live in the country because they can have more freedom to be free.

People like to live in the country because they can have more freedom to be free.

People like to live in the country because they can have more freedom to be free.

People like to live in the country because they can have more freedom to be free.

People like to live in the country because they can have more freedom to be free.

People like to live in the country because they can have more freedom to be free.

People like to live in the country because they can have more freedom to be free.

People like to live in the country because they can have more freedom to be free.

People like to live in the country because they can have more freedom to be free.

People like to live in the country because they can have more freedom to be free.

People like to live in the country because they can have more freedom to be free.

People like to live in the country because they can have more freedom to be free.

People like to live in the country because they can have more freedom to be free.

People like to live in the country because they can have more freedom to be free.

People like to live in the country because they can have more freedom to be free.

People like to live in the country because they can have more freedom to be free.

People like to live in the country because they can have more freedom to be free.

People like to live in the country because they can have more freedom to be free.

People like to live in the country because they can have more freedom to be free.

People like to live in the country because they can have more freedom to be free.

People like to live in the country because they can have more freedom to be free.

People like to live in the country because they can have more freedom to be free.

People like to live in the country because they can have more freedom to be free.

People like to live in the country because they can have more freedom to be free.

People like to live in the country because they can have more freedom to be free.

People like to live in the country because they can have more freedom to be free.

People like to live in the countr