A WOMAN DOCTOR'S EXPERIENCES OF SEVERAL YEARS IN CARLSBAD.

The author of "The Story of a Woman Doctor," a successful novel by Dr. Ethel Smith, has for years been a resident of Carlsbad, New Mexico, where she has had the opportunity to observe and record the history of the life of the city. Carlsbad is a mining town, a favorite winter resort, and the home of the famous "Old Man of the Mountains." Dr. Smith has been there for more than ten years, and has become familiar with the life and customs of the place.

"Carlsbad is a place where the ordinary physician cannot live unless he is a patient observer of human nature, and a good diagnostician," says Dr. Smith. "The ordinary physician cannot live in Carlsbad unless he is a good observer of human nature, and a good diagnostician."
