PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 2-The report today that Commodore1 H. H. Caldwell, who has been at the head of the United States military and naval forces in the East Indies, will return to the front, is not correct. The Commodore had the command of the combined American military and naval forces, but has been on sick leave. He is not expected to return before tomorrow. It was still the intention to continue the operations of the United States forces in the East Indies.
