PURITAN IS OFF FOR MANEUVERS
District Naval Battalion to Help Defend City.

ORDERS OF VESSEL SECRET
Commander Stratus W. O. Commodore Big Crown Before Leaving for Annapolis.

All wars have never-ending activities to defend the United States interests abroad and protect our nation's security. In this sense, the PURITAN, under the command of Commander Stratus W. O. Commodore Big Crown, has been ordered to leave for Annapolis, where it will participate in maneuvers to enhance its readiness and defensive capabilities.

The PURITAN is a crucial asset in our defense strategy, and its deployment to Annapolis is a testament to our commitment to preparedness and resilience. Together with other vessels, it will contribute to the overall strength of our maritime forces, ensuring the protection of our nation's sovereignty and interests.

The fleet, under the guidance of Commander Stratus W. O. Commodore Big Crown, is expected to arrive at Annapolis in due course, ready to serve and protect our nation as required.

SAILING DOWN THE POTOMAC RIVER TODAY TO AID IN THE DEFENSE OF WASHINGTON

DISTRICT ERECTING NEW STRUCTURES

Building operations are under way on several projects which will aid in the construction of public structures to serve the needs of Washington. The Building Inspector is busy preparing plans for the new edifices that will be constructed soon.

The buildings will be erected according to the specifications set by Congress. The Building Inspector has been working on these plans to ensure that the new structures will meet the requirements and standards set by the law.
