

HERALD CAMERA-MEN TELL THEIR STORY

That Coming Generations May Share Her Beauty

(By Pacific & Atlantic)

Would Be Boston's Mayor

(By Pacific & Atlantic)

Von Hindenburg on Tour

Accompanied by several cabinet members, President von Hindenburg recently toured the evacuated Ruhr cities. Photo was taken as he was presented with flowers at Bochum.

Movie Divorce

Milton Sills, hero of many a movie love story, was divorced by wife in Los Angeles, Cal. She accused him of desertion. Mrs. Sills was awarded custody of daughter, Dorothy, 14. Doris Kenyon (above) is mentioned as Sills' next mate.

Hammer Murder

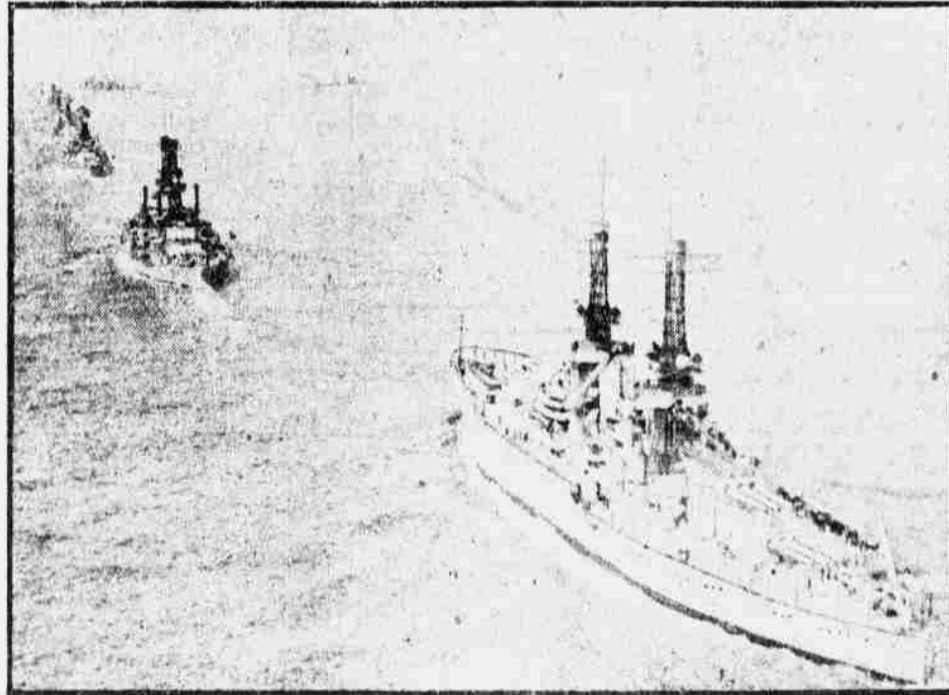

Painting is among the accomplishments Count Gosta Morner, husband of Peggy Joyce, lays claim to. The count is perpetuating for posterity the charms of Anne Robbino, dancer, at Baltimore, N. Y.

Held in Shooting of Rich Realty Man

(By Pacific & Atlantic)

Splendid Airview of Fleet Returning to U. S.

(By Pacific & Atlantic)

In perfect formation the United States fleet, returning from Australia, made stirring picture when photographed from airplane off San Pedro, Cal. As is usually the case our jacks were feted and dined and in general made much of while in Australia.

(By Pacific & Atlantic)

Mrs. Mabel L. Sheridan, held in hammer slaying.

(By Pacific & Atlantic)

The late Mrs. Ada McCobb

Beaten lifeless with hammer, Mrs. Ada McCobb, wealthy New York woman, met death supposedly in hand to hand fight with Mrs. Mabel L. Sheridan at San Antonio, Tex. Mrs. Sheridan is said to have confessed.

Calls Ex-Kaiser's Son Girl Thief

In the Prussian diet a deputy charged that the former German crown prince (above) kept a young girl a prisoner in his castle at Oels, Germany, and that the girl's father, a railroad engineer, was declared insane after he tried to rescue daughter.

Sartorially perfect for visit among socially prominent in the United States, Prince Jacques de Broglie of Paris arrived the other day on the Leviathan. For a while during his stay he will be entertained at Tuxedo Park, N. Y.

On Visit

German Air Expert Places Blame of Shenandoah Disaster Upon Dead Commander

Direct blame for the Shenandoah disaster was placed upon the late Zachary Lansdowne, commander of the ill-fated aircraft, by Capt. Anton Heinen, (arrow), German air expert, shown above testifying before naval board at Lakehurst, N. J.

Heinen accused the crew of mishandling the airship and declared that craft could have been saved from storm. (Copyright: 1925; Pacific & Atlantic Photos, Inc.)

Dog Heir to $1,000

(By Pacific & Atlantic)

$1,000 was left to Buster Brown, her dog, in will of Emma H. Slade, elder of patriotic societies. Mrs. W. R. Cronk (above) of New York City cares for Buster.

Sea Heroes' Tribute

Begni del Piatta, sculptor, is working in his New York City studio on model for beautiful gulls monument for navy and marine memorial at Washington.

Submarine S-50 Near Disaster Doing Rescue Work

(By Pacific & Atlantic)

A new catastrophe was narrowly averted when sub S-50, aiding rescue of S-51, was submerged at wreck scene with all hatches open. Photo shows deep sea divers at New London, Conn., testing apparatus before going to scene of disaster.