The British government recently decorated three American naval officers and two enlisted men who served aboard a U.S. carrier during a recent submarine attack. The Distinguished Flying Cross was awarded to Lieut. (j.g.) William F. Chamberlin, USN, Aboard Pacific, Calif.; Lieut. Commander William M. Brown, USN, Charleston, W. Va.; Lt. Commander Howard R. Roberts, USN, Whidbey Island, Wash., and Lt. (j.g.) William C. Chamberlin, USN, Aboard Pacific, Calif., for their distinguished service in the attack upon a submarine. The bureau's honor citation reads:

Distinguished Flying Cross

Lt. (j.g.) William F. Chamberlin, USN, Aboard Pacific, Calif.

For his exceptional services in January and February 1944, while serving aboard the U.S. light aircraft carrier Pacific, he was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross. His outstanding achievements included successful attacks on enemy submarines in the Pacific Theater.

Lt. Commander William M. Brown, USN, Charleston, W. Va.

For his exceptional services in January and February 1944, while serving aboard the U.S. light aircraft carrier Pacific, he was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross. His outstanding achievements included successful attacks on enemy submarines in the Pacific Theater.

Lieutenant Commander Howard R. Roberts, USN, Whidbey Island, Wash.

For his exceptional services in January and February 1944, while serving aboard the U.S. light aircraft carrier Pacific, he was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross. His outstanding achievements included successful attacks on enemy submarines in the Pacific Theater.

Lieutenant Commander William C. Chamberlin, USN, Aboard Pacific, Calif.

For his exceptional services in January and February 1944, while serving aboard the U.S. light aircraft carrier Pacific, he was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross. His outstanding achievements included successful attacks on enemy submarines in the Pacific Theater.

Six Anti-sub Groups Formed

Six independent task groups, including 14 ships and five composite aircraft, were formed to support the carrier action. The aircraft groups operated in the vicinity of the U-boat, attacking it from different angles. The U-boat was finally sunk by the combined efforts of the carrier and its aircraft.

Six Anti-sub Groups Formed

Six independent task groups, including 14 ships and five composite aircraft, were formed to support the carrier action. The aircraft groups operated in the vicinity of the U-boat, attacking it from different angles. The U-boat was finally sunk by the combined efforts of the carrier and its aircraft.

Six Anti-sub Groups Formed

Six independent task groups, including 14 ships and five composite aircraft, were formed to support the carrier action. The aircraft groups operated in the vicinity of the U-boat, attacking it from different angles. The U-boat was finally sunk by the combined efforts of the carrier and its aircraft.

Six Anti-sub Groups Formed

Six independent task groups, including 14 ships and five composite aircraft, were formed to support the carrier action. The aircraft groups operated in the vicinity of the U-boat, attacking it from different angles. The U-boat was finally sunk by the combined efforts of the carrier and its aircraft.

Six Anti-sub Groups Formed

Six independent task groups, including 14 ships and five composite aircraft, were formed to support the carrier action. The aircraft groups operated in the vicinity of the U-boat, attacking it from different angles. The U-boat was finally sunk by the combined efforts of the carrier and its aircraft.

Six Anti-sub Groups Formed

Six independent task groups, including 14 ships and five composite aircraft, were formed to support the carrier action. The aircraft groups operated in the vicinity of the U-boat, attacking it from different angles. The U-boat was finally sunk by the combined efforts of the carrier and its aircraft.

Six Anti-sub Groups Formed

Six independent task groups, including 14 ships and five composite aircraft, were formed to support the carrier action. The aircraft groups operated in the vicinity of the U-boat, attacking it from different angles. The U-boat was finally sunk by the combined efforts of the carrier and its aircraft.