The battle-scarred veterans of the cele brated Bucktail Regiment met at Kennett Square, Pa., recently, and passed resolutions admitting to membership in the Association the daughters and sons of members of the famous old organization. Resolutions were also adopted indorsing the candidacy of Comrade James F. Morrison, of Meade Post, Philadelphia, for Department Commander of the Grand Army; also, asking President McKinley to appoint Gen. Roy Stone, a veteran Bucktailer, now in Porto Rico, to be a Major-General of Volunteers. Gettysburg was selected as the place for holding the next annual Reunion. The Bucktails spent most of the day visiting Cedarcroft, the fine old country seat of the Taylor family, of which Bayard Taylor, the author, and Col. Charles Frederick Taylor, the one-time head of the Bucktails, were sons. There they were entertained by Mrs. Bar-rington, the present owner of the estate, and later they were guests at the hospi-table board of Mrs. Carey and Mrs. Lam-born sixtors of Col. Taylor at 1992. The bud is more easily blighted than the full - blown rose. A ceptible to weakness and disease that will wreck her in a ly way than she is after she has attained to healthy womanheed. Thousands of women have their lives wrecked by troubles of this delicate description because of their own ignorance and the prudery of their mothers.

Whenever the wandering demon of ill-health finds a ship adrift upon the sea of ignorance, he steps on board, takes the helm, and steers straight for the maelstrom of death. The young woman who has not been taught the necessity of taking care of her health in a womanly way is a ship adrift upon the sea of ignorance. Diseases that will wreck her future happiness will soon assume command. Young women who suffer from weakness and disease peculiar to their sex live under a terrible nervous tension, and if they escape death are always threatened with insanity. The whole nervous system is affected by the constant drag and drain upon the delicate and feminine organs.
