CROWDS ARE SILENT AS SHIPS DEPART

FEAR EAGAN HAS KILLED HIMSELF

Despondent Over Loss of Health, Manager of Burroughs Adding Machine Co. Disappears

All day yesterday the police of the park station and the friends of J. E. Eagan, sales manager of the Burroughs adding machine company, searched Golden Gate park in the fear that his dead body would be found concealed in the bushes. Leaving all of his jewelry and other marks of identification behind him the well known clubman disappeared from his home at 510 Cole street Monday morning and he has not been heard from since. His sister, with whom he lives, became worried at his continued absence and yesterday she told his business associates of her fears.

Eagan has been ill and despondent ever since he was admitted to a serious operation six months ago and, led by the fear that the lost man might have made away with himself, his associates enlisted the aid of the police. Although Chief Biggs attempted, at the request of the sister of the lost man, to keep the fact of his disappearance quiet, his friends soon learned of it and a number of them joined in the search through the park.

The general manager of the adding machine company, who was in command of the search party, called in the searchers late yesterday afternoon and announced that he had information that Eagan was in safety outside of this city. He refused to admit that he had heard directly from the lost man, but he maintained that he was absolutely certain that he knew where he was. Cook asserts that Eagan's books were perfectly straight and he could suggest no reason for his disappearance except the despondency induced by the fact that he felt that he was not recovering from the effects of his operation as speedily as expected.

Eagan has been in the habit of spending several hours at his office three days in the week and when he left the house at his usual time Monday his sister thought nothing of it. When the search party was formed, he made an inspection of his room and found that he had made a complete change of clothing and had left all of his fraternity pins and papers behind him. Alarmed by this fact she sent for his business associates and they at once determined to search the park as the most likely place to find the body if he had committed suicide, as they feared. After a thorough but fruitless search of the park the party returned to Eagan's house, where it was announced that the hunt would be discontinued, as Cook felt certain that Eagan had left town.

FARMER'S FORTUNE STOLEN FROM BOX

Mysterious Theft of $15,000 From French Bank Is Puzzling Police

Suspected Employee Found to Have Left Before Money Was Taken

Officials of the French bank and members of the city detective force are working together in an effort to solve the mystery of the alleged theft of $15,000 in cash from a safe deposit box in the vaults of the institution. The money, which is the property of Henry Cailleaud, a wealthy farmer of Sonoma, is said to have been stolen within the last few weeks and Cailleaud has directed the finger of suspicion toward F. Bonnet, a former bank employee who is now in France.

Although the police and bank officials have so far failed to untangle the knot and locate the culprit, their investigations have tended to prove beyond any reasonable doubt that Bonnet could have had nothing to do with the robbery, and, although the latter is now returning to this city, it is not to answer a charge of theft but to assist in tracing the disappearance of the coin.

THEFT NOT DISCLOSED

The alleged theft was discovered on July 1, when Cailleaud visited his safe deposit box to secure money with which to close a contract, but the investigations have been carried on quietly and the disappearance of the money was not made known publicly until yesterday. In the meantime every clue has been followed by the bank officials and detectives and every possible motive which might lead any one to dispose of the money has been examined into.

On July 1 Cailleaud met a business acquaintance by appointment in the directors' room of the bank, the purpose of their meeting being to arrange a loan. Cailleaud had agreed to loan $20,000 on a mortgage on the other's property held by the French bank, and the deal was closed and the necessary papers signed in the presence of Attorney Bergerot, counsel for the French bank. At the conclusion of the conference Cailleaud visited his safe deposit box to secure the money, which he had on deposit there, but rushed back in a few minutes to declare that $15,000 had been stolen from the box.

DATES DO NOT AGREE
F. Bonnet, who formerly was employed in the safe deposit vaults, left recently for a visit to France, and the suggestion was made that he might have knowledge of the disappearance of the coin, as Cailleaud declared positively that he had not opened the box since long before June 17, on which date Bonnet went away. The later investigation has proved that this is not the fact, as the books of the bank show that Cailleaud visited the vaults on June 18, the day after Bonnet left.

COMBINE TO DEFEND STATE'S INTERESTS

Governor Presides at Meeting Held to Discuss Proposed Tariff Revision

Businessmen Affected Will Present Memorial at Next Congress

California interests which would be affected by the proposed revision of the tariff have combined to study the state and the Pacific coast's needs for protection and will present a memorial at the extraordinary session of congress subsequent to March 4 of next year. This memorial will be a statement of the state's interests and its purposes will be to defend those interests. So much was decided upon yesterday afternoon at a meeting held in the assembly room of the chamber of commerce.

The meeting was attended by Governor James N. Gillett, United States Senator George C. Perkins, Congressman Julius Kahn, Joseph R. Knowland and J. C. Needham and about 50 representatives of commercial and producers' associations of the state. Governor Gillett was the temporary chairman and Arthur R. Briggs, president of the California state board of trade, was chosen the permanent chairman of the organization. Chester W. Burks, secretary of the San Francisco chamber of commerce, was elected secretary of the organization. The state body on tariff revision will consist of a representative of each state organization, which would be in any wise interested by the tariff. It was also provided that allied interests in all the coast states and the Hawaiian islands be invited to co-operate with the California organization.

Governor Gillett called the meeting to order. He explained that a revision of the tariff was imminent, but that under the Dingley bill the state's industries and activities were well protected, that deciduous fruits, dried fruits, lumber, wool, wines and other products were on the protected list and should be kept there. To retain the existing protection, the governor asserted, it would be necessary for Californians to back up the California delegation and be well fortified with facts to maintain their position. He concluded that it was necessary for an organization to be formed to prepare the needed data and carry on the impending campaign.

Among those who were at the meeting yesterday were:

Governor Gillett, Senator Perkins, Congressman Kahn, Knowland and Needham, State Senator E. A. Borron of Sacramento, Mayor Clinton L. White of Sacramento, Grove L. Johnson of Sacramento, Joseph R. Knowland of Chico, Colonel Theodore Gier, C. C. Moore, president, and Henry Rosenfeld, William Matson and William M. Bunker, trustees of the chamber of commerce; Andrea Shabro, A. C. Ruloff, and Andrew Carrigan of the Manufacturers' and Producers' association; Rufus B. Jewell, Harry E. Welch, W. Frank Pierce, A. B. C. Dohrmann and R. B. Hale of the California Promotion committee; Perry T. Morgan, president of the California state board of trade; John T. Brady, Tulare; A. G. Kendall, Citrus protective league, Los Angeles; W. W. Hines and George E. King, Sacramento chamber of commerce; Carey Friedlander, merchants' exchange; Harry E. Sloan, Sacramento valley development association.

The organizations represented at the meeting whose delegates are not included in the above list were: Merchants' association, the California canners' state league, the Ship Owners' association, the San Francisco merchants' exchange, Los Angeles chamber of commerce, Los Angeles fruit growers' exchange, Fresno county chamber of commerce, Stockton chamber of commerce, San Joaquin valley commercial association, San Jose chamber of commerce, Eureka chamber of commerce, Riverside chamber of commerce, Redlands board of trade.

FIGHT WITH BOTTLES

Edward Kirkwood, bar tender in the Hermitage saloon, 1018 Fillmore street, and another saloonman named Daniel Greenwald were having an argument last night, when, according to Kirkwood, Greenwald called him a liar and hit him over the head with an empty whisky bottle. Kirkwood retaliated with another bottle, cutting a deep gash in Greenwald's scalp. Policeman C. M. Grush placed Kirkwood under arrest on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

Bonnet was telegraphed for, however, and is now supposed to be on his way back to San Francisco.

The contract for a loan, which was being drawn up when the alleged loss was discovered, is being held in abeyance. Detectives David Murphy and Dixon Bell of the police department, who are regularly on the banking beat, were assigned to the case and have spent several days in their investigations, while the bank officials have also been quietly at work.
