

JACKSONVILLE TO GREET THE GREY

United Confederate Veterans to Meet in National Encampment.

Jacksonville, Fla., April 30.—All arrangements have been completed for the twenty-fourth annual national encampment of the United Confederate Veterans, which will be held in this city next week.

For nearly a year a committee of 50 of the foremost citizens of Jacksonville has been at work on the preparations for the reception and entertainment of the 25,000, or more, visitors who are expected to be here from every part of the South. The detailed program prepared by the committee is of the most perfect and elaborate character and if the coming reunion is not one of the most successful ever held by the veterans who wore the gray it will not be the fault of the people of Jacksonville.

Decorations to Be Elaborate.

Already public buildings and private residences are taking on holiday attire in honor of the coming of the grizzled heroes. The electrical decorations will be the most elaborate ever seen in the South. Upon arriving at the Union depot the first thing to attract the attention of the visitors will be an enormous electric sign, flashing out the words, "Jacksonville Bids You Welcome." At all the principal street intersections in the downtown district beautiful canopies of electric lights are being constructed. The leading thoroughfares are lined with Venetian masts, from which Old Glory and the Stars and Bars will float side by side. Countless yards of bunting and thousands of flags and banners will be used in the decorations of the building fronts along the line of the reunion parade.

Gen. Bennett H. Young of Louisville, commander-in-chief of the United Confederate Veterans, will preside at the business sessions of that body. Governor Park Trammell and other prominent speakers will be on the program. Among the notable guests who will be assigned places of honor on the platform will be Gen. E. M. Law of Bartow, Fla., who is the only surviving general on the Confederate side who commanded a division at Chickamauga. Gen. Law is now nearing his eightieth year.

Annual Parade.

The annual parade will be the closing feature of the reunion. Many of the old soldiers who composed the armies of Virginia and Tennessee, who marched to the strains of "Dixie" and followed the old flag under Lee and Jackson and Hood and Johnson, are now too feeble to march in the ranks with their comrades. Realizing this, the local committee has arranged to furnish carriages and automobiles for those who wish to participate in the parade, despite their inability to stand the strain of marching. Others will occupy reserved seats in the reviewing stands, where they can witness the parade and cheer their comrades as they pass.

Hundreds of the veterans will be accommodated during the reunion in a great army camp in Springfield park. A second camp will be located in Dignan park. Both grounds are conveniently situated within easy access of the auditorium and other places which will be the rendezvous of the veterans during the gathering.

In addition to the business sessions of the United Confederate Veterans and the several affiliated organizations there will be a distinct social side to the reunion. Three grand balls will be the leading features of the program of social entertainment. The principal ball will be that of the veterans, maids and sponsors, which will be given in a mammoth tent. This ball will be opened with the celebrated Southern Cross drill, participated in by 32 young men and women. The drill was originated in 1864, by a number of young Confederate soldiers who were confined in the Federal prison on Johnson's island, in Lake Erie.

As in previous years, the sponsors and maids will add youth and brightness to the gathering of the veterans. These sponsors will represent not only the various states, but practically every division, brigade, regiment and camp of the United Confederate Veterans. In honor of these visitors there will be social festivities of many kinds. The honor of being selected as sponsor-in-chief has fallen to Miss Corinne Hampton of Columbia, S. C. Miss Hampton is a granddaughter of Gen. Wade Hampton, one of the famous cavalry leaders of the Confederacy.

Though the business sessions and the social features will occupy much of the time of the visitors, the reunion spirit will be kept paramount and no pleasure the committee can provide will exceed the enjoyment the veterans will get from meeting again over camp-fire reveries. Opportunities for the veterans to mingle with each other will be afforded at the headquarters of the various departments.

Miss Huntington is fond of outdoor sports and has spent most of her life in the country.

Vincent Astor will be 23 on the fifteenth of next November. As a child he was delicate and the outdoor life prescribed by his physicians became a habit to which he still adheres. He received most of his early schooling from private tutors, but for a time he attended Eton in England. He entered Harvard but the death of his father three years ago and the responsibilities that came to him with the great Astor estate caused him to leave the university. At present he is learning to handle the Astor interests in this country. His fortune has been estimated at between $75,000,000 and $100,000,000.

ODD FELLOWS CONVENTION.

Efforts are being put forth by the secretary of the Commercial club to bring the annual convention of the Odd Fellows to this city. At present many local lodges have signified their wishes to have the meeting held here and from the latest reports it is quite probable the fraternity will grace the capital with its presence. The hotel accommodations, the accessibility to all parts of the state and the desire of a great many of the delegates to visit the seat of government of the state are strong factors in leading the Odd Fellows to choose Bismarck as their convention city.

At the same time the affiliated order, The Rebekahs, will hold its meeting. Several hundred of North Dakota's splendid women will attend this meeting, and without doubt there will be among the local orders a strong tendency to come to the center of the state and the source of legislation, to allow these people a chance to study Bismarck at close range.

been set for May 14 and 15, is a matter of controversy between several cities of this state and the latest move that has been made by the interested cities comes from Fargo, which had a petition out and had the signatures of 19 auditors to take the meeting to Fargo.

The secretary of the Bismarck Commercial club at once wrote to each one of the parties, and has received nine replies to his letters. Of these nine replies eight of the auditors stated they regretted having placed their names upon the petition and that they were in favor of taking the convention to Bismarck. The ninth reply came from the auditor of one of the eastern counties of the state and stated that not only did he regret having placed his name upon the petition, but that he was most emphatic in saying that the city of Bismarck was the logical point.
