A Pharmacist.
At the examination held in Columbia Wednesday and Thursday by the examining board of the State Pharmaceutical Association, Ellis Evans, son of Mr. E. G. Evans of Pendleton, was an applicant. The young man passed the examination with colors flying, finishing fourth among the 12 of the 28 applicants who passed the examination. He was the only Anderson county boy taking the examination. Previous to the examination he had been a student at the State College in Charleston. Mr. Evans arrived in Anderson yesterday and will be associated with his brothers, Glenn and George Evans, as pharmacist, at the Owl Drug Co.

Twenty-five years ago today Mr. Brissey cast his lot with the people of Anderson, and it was one of the best things that ever happened for Anderson when he decided to make this his home.

Hold-Up

W. Furman Kay Tells of Being Bused by Two Highwaymen

W. Furman Kay, of 325 West Church street, who is employed at the furniture store of O. F. Tolly & Son, tells of being held up yesterday morning between 2 and 3 o'clock, at Rocky River bridge, as he was returning from the home of his mother-in-law, Mrs. S. E. Kay, in the Nicks Creek section, where he had gone to sit up that night with a little child that is ill as a result of being received several days ago.

Mr. Kay states that as he entered the east end of the bridge, coming in the direction of Anderson, he was halted by a white man who ordered him to halt. Mr. Kay says that he kept his horse, which he was riding, galloping despite the warning of the man, until he arrived within a few feet of the west end of the bridge, when two men sprang out from the sides of the bridge and grabbed him.

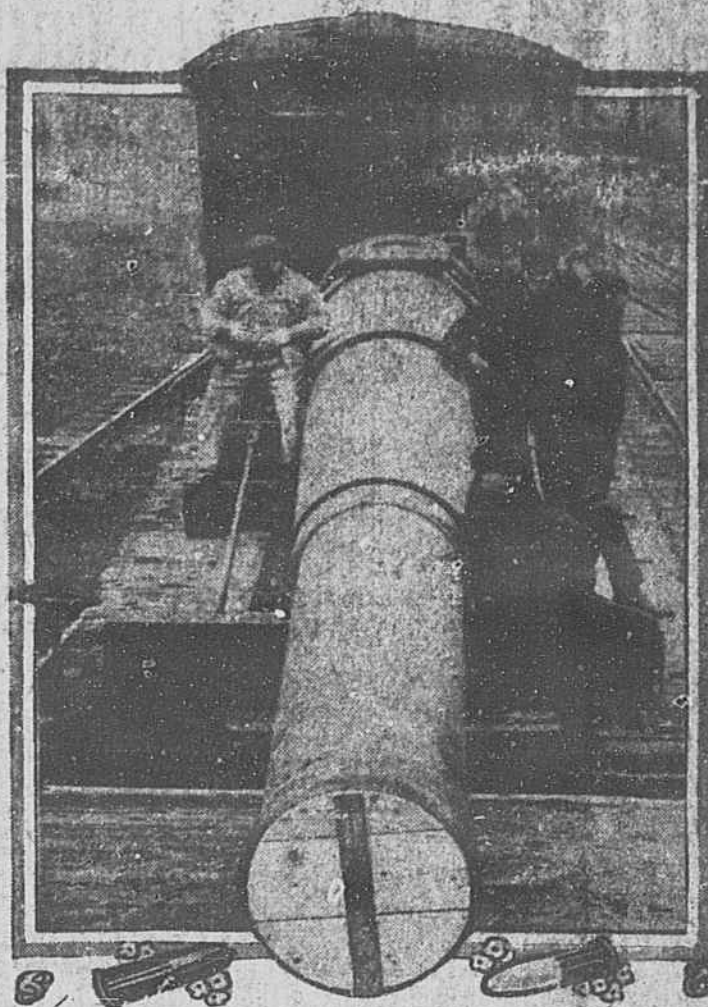

bride reins. The men attempted to rifle his pockets. Mr. Kay states, and when they failed to unbutton his overcoat they drew their knives and proceeded to slash at him. His overcoat was cut about five times, he states, and one time the blade of a knife went through all his clothing and scratched the skin.

The horse broke loose from the man when one of them cut the bride reins, but Mr. Kay stuck to his seat and urged on to the city. He reported the matter to Sheriff Ashley, who with Constable James Williams, returned with him to the scene of the hold-up. No trace of the would-be robbers could be found, and the officers and Mr. Kay returned to the city empty-handed.

Mr. Kay would not tell whether the men who held him up were white or black. They had two horses in saddle, standing nearby, he stated.

14-Inch Gun for the New Pennsylvania.

This is the new 14-inch gun of the American navy soon to be mounted on the great battleship Pennsylvania, which was launched the other day at Newport News. The gun as shown here is on a freight car being shipped to the Indian Head, Md., proving grounds.

Ten of these 14-inch guns for the new United States battleships have been completed at Watervliet, N. Y., and have been shipped to the naval proving grounds to be tested by ordnance officers. The guns cost to manufacture between $650,000 and $700,000.

Other 14-inch guns of similar design for the navy are being made at Watervliet. They will fire projectiles weighing 1,400 pounds, and will have a maximum effective range of more than 21,000 yards, or twelve miles. At 10,000 yards, or more than five miles, the projectiles will be able to pierce the hardest armor plate of a thickness of about 16 inches. The guns weigh 63.3 tons each and can be fired about 200 times without reloading. The new guns are for the Nevada, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania and Arizona.

Festival

Closing Day of Season Saw Delightful Performances

The closing day of Anderson's three-days season of music festival and indoor chautauqua was, in the opinion of many who attended, the best of the trio.

Yesterday morning at 11 o'clock a free sacred concert was given by the Hearons Sisters. A large audience was present for the performance, and enjoyed it to the fullest.

A full grand opera concert was given yesterday afternoon by the Hearons Sisters, and was particularly enjoyable.

The closing number of the program was a reading of "Bought and Paid For" given by Miss Gay Zenola MacLaren last evening. Those who heard Miss MacLaren Thursday night in her reading of "Peg O' My Heart" were highly pleased, but those who heard her last night were enthusiastic in their appreciation of her work.

While Anderson's first music festival and indoor chautauqua may not have proven the greatest financial success and the attendance may not have been all that the promoters had hoped it would be, the venture as a whole was a success when measured by the possibilities it opens up for Anderson having something in the future on this scale, only larger and better and one that will become a permanent fixture with the people each year.

EXPRESS COMPANIES MUCH CONCERNED

Supreme Court to Consider Constitutionality of Webb-Kenyon Liquor Law

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, March 19.—Litigation involving the constitutionality and interpretation of the Webb-Kenyon law has withdrawn from interstate shipment of intoxicating consigned to local option territory the protection previously afforded such shipments by the commerce clause of the federal constitution. The "wet" declare the law was merely aimed at "bootlegging" and does not withdraw the commerce clause protection from interstate shipments designed for personal use.

Express and railroad companies are much concerned, for liquor dealers throughout the country have gone into the courts to compel carriers to accept shipments for "personal use" into dry territory.

In Kentucky the courts adopted the "wet" construction and an express company, foreseeing an alleged necessity of employing a big force of detectives to ferret out the purpose of each shipment, appealed to the supreme court. It is in this case which will be argued after Easter. Somewhat similar cases involving West Virginia and North Carolina liquor laws are also before the court.

HOLLAND PREPARING A NOTE OF PROTEST

Holland Regards Blockade Not in Accordance With International Usages

(By Associated Press.)
THE HAGUE, March 19.—It is reported that Holland is preparing a note to be sent to Great Britain and France in reference to the order in council, which is regarded as not in accordance with international usages. There is no official confirmation of this report.

WASHINGTON, March 19.—While the United States government does not know as yet whether the allies intend to maintain a legal blockade or propose to apply general rules of contraband and non-contraband in enforcing their embargo on commercial intercourse between Germany and neutral countries, American naval officers and officials versed in international law expressed the opinion today that the indefinite limit prescribed—"European waters, including the Mediterranean"—might be construed as a legal area of operations for a blockading fleet.

Naval officers frankly admit that the old form of blockade by warships (close to an enemy coast passed with the investment of Santiago in the Spanish-American war. Accordingly, in asking Great Britain and France for an explanation of their recent declaration of an embargo, the United States conceded that the activity of submarines might make physically impossible a close blockade of an enemy coast and suggested that if the declaration of the allies were to be construed as a legal blockade, some "radius of activity" be announced.

This principle of a "radius of action" for a blockading fleet was discussed at the international naval conference at London in 1909 and the declaration which followed contained this rule:

"Seizure of neutral vessels for violation of blockade may be made only within the radius of action of ships of war assigned to maintain an effective blockade."

The United States Naval War College authorities point out that while originally under American doctrine, the area of blockade was not limited, the definition "of the area of operations of a blockade even if in such a manner as to include a large range of high sea is regarded as a legitimate act of war; . . . and while it is undoubtedly an inconvenience and may be a loss to neutral commerce to be excluded from the blockaded area, it is a recognized consequence of war."

The declaration of London and all previous expositions of international law specifically ruled, however, that "the blockading forces must not bar access to the ports of coasted neutrals." It is on this point which the British order in council, if intended to be a notification of blockade, would be, in the view of officials here, a violation of previous rules. For that reason, further development of the British policy in specific cases is awaited with keen interest.

Horn Will Be Taken To Boston For Trial

(By Associated Press.)
BANGOR, Me., March 19.—Werner Horn, charged with liberal international transportation of explosives in connection with his attempt to wreck the international railroad bridge was taken to Boston for trial as a result of the finding of Federal Commissioner Charles H. Field here today. The commissioner ordered that the indictment warrants be sufficient basis for holding the prisoner. The defendant's motion for the release of Horn on the ground that he was a "belligerent" subject to act of war was denied.

SULPHUR DRIES UP ECZEMA AND STOPS ITCHING

This old time skin healer is used just like any cold cream.

Sulphur, says a renowned dermatologist, just common bold-sulphur made into a thick cream will soothe and heal the skin when irritated and broken out with Eczema or any form of eruption. The moment it is applied all itching ceases and after two or three applications the Eczema disappears, leaving the skin clear and smooth.

He tells Eczema sufferers to get from any good pharmacy an ounce of bold-sulphur and apply it to the irritated parts the same as you would any cold cream.

For many years common bold-sulphur has occupied a secure position in the practice of dermatology, and cutaneous affections by reason of its parasitic-destruying property. It is not only purely medicinal, but also antipruritic, and exerts a remarkably healing in all irritable and inflammatory conditions of the skin. While not always effecting permanent cure it never fails to instantly subside the angry inflammation and heat the Eczema, and it is often years later when the eruption again appears on the skin.
