FIVE CENTS

MADERO WOULD PREVENT MOBILIZATION OF THE FEDERAL TROOPS NORTH

Claimed that Insurgents have been Re-enforced by More Americans

Many Inland Towns of Mexico Have been Cut off From Outside World

(By Associated Press.)
El Paso, Texas, March 18.—Wherever Madero and his 1,000 insurgents are encamped, his movements and designs are causing unceasing speculation among the federal troops at Juarez which is guarded by only 500 men. At Casas Grandes, 125 miles south, Col. Garcia Cueller, of President Diaz's personal staff, according to late reports, is still nursing a wounded arm preparatory to a march northward with his 700 federal troops, which form the main strength of the Mexican army in the north. Between Cueller and General Navarro at Juarez Madero is drawing to him all the insurgents who heretofore have been scattered, with a view to preventing this juncture of the federal forces. That Madero again will attempt to take Casas Grandes an establish it as a base of supplies and by keeping down dridges along the Mexican National and Mexican Northwestern railroad will endeavor to prevent any addition to the federal strength at Juarez, is given out by the Junta here as a fact based on messages from Madero himself. For ten days Madero is reported to have been busy equipping his men. Herds of cattle have been driven into the "war zone" held by the insurgents and the insurgent leader is reported to have been able to give each of his men 300 rounds of ammunition. Refugees who have been able to get through from Casas Grandes report they came through numerous insurgent bands. One of the latest arrivals stated that several hundred insurgents were a few miles south of Juarez. The town, however, with sand bags for defense on house tops and rifle loop holes in churches, still bears the aspect of a beleaguered city. Reports that insurgents entered El Paso within the last twenty-four hours and were re-enforced by more Americans received partial confirmation today when at daylight it was found that the cannon which had adorned the public square had disappeared. North from Chihuahua to the Texas border people living in small towns are reported to be enduring great suffering because of the stopping of railroads. Terrazas has a smelter where about 200 people, some of them Americans, are employed. Members of the colony of the Greek church are at Candelaria, and at Abumada a body of Mexican custom officials are said to be marooned. All these with a score of villages off from the railroad, but usually supplied by wagon trains, have been without outside communication for weeks. Appealing messages have come from some of the points asking for a termination of the revolution.

SOCIETY WOMAN SHOT HUSBAND FOR A BURGLAR

"Seeing Sun Rise" Party at Chicago has a Fatal Termination

Chicago, Ill., Mar. 18.—After an all-night party beginning with a midnight banquet and ending with a "seeing the sun rise" gathering at daylight, Mrs. Schenk shot and killed her husband, Charles Schenk, at their home in Park Ridge, a fashionable suburb, early today. Mrs. Schenk declared she shot her husband thinking he was a burglar trying to enter their home. Later she made several attempts to end her own life. Schenk was superintendent of the Parkridge branch of the Northwestern Gas Light & Coke Co. He was dead when the first neighbor summoned by Mrs. Schenk reached their home. Mrs. Schenk has been in a state of intermittent hysterics since the shooting, but succeeded in making a statement to the police. She said her guests had remained until nearly six o'clock and she had retired immediately after their departure. Shortly afterward she was awakened by her husband calling her. "I got my revolver and hurried to the top of the stairs," she said, "and called, 'What is it?' Then I saw a form on the stairs and thinking it a burglar fired."

Y., Mar. 18.—Clad in black from head to foot, her face hidden by a heavy veil, Mrs. Edith Melber, convicted of murdering her child, was taken to Auburn prison this afternoon to begin the minimum sentence of twenty years' imprisonment. Hundreds of persons gathered around the station to get a glimpse of the woman and a platoon of police was necessary to force a passage-way to the train for the prisoner and her guards. As they boarded the train there was a yell from the crowd, but no further demonstration was made.

GENERAL WOOD, BUSIEST MAN IN U. S. AND COL. C. P. TOWNSEY

Washington, March 18.—Major General Leonard Wood, chief of staff of the army, is the busiest man in the national capital. His associates tell him he has more to do these days owing to the war maneuvers in the south than any other man in the country. He depends to a considerable extent on Colonel Clarence Page Townsley of the Third United States coast artillery to direct the maneuvers at Galveston, in which the artillery will play an important part.

SOLDIERS KICK ON METHODS OF TRANSPORTATION

(By Associated Press.)
San Antonio, Texas, March 18.—(Special to Tribune.)—The story has gone out to the world that the soldiers mobilized at Fort Sam Houston rode from the various camps throughout the country to this city in pullman cars. According to the dispatches, they travelled in all the pomp and splendor of men going out for a good time with specially equipped trains. But the soldiers themselves tell quite a different story. "Why we had to sleep standing as we came to San Antonio," said a private from Atlanta, Georgia. "We did not have respectable passenger coaches, our train was largely made up of 'Jim Crow' cars and we were crowded in so thick that there was not seat room for all. If the railroad company calls that a pullman, I'll take mine on the soft side of a rock in preference, providing there is room to lie down. The fact is this pullman story is one of the little white ones" that the government and the railroad company send out in an endeavor to make good with.

TROOPS READY TO MOVE IN MOMENT

Galveston, Texas, Mar. 18.—With the arrival today at Fort Crockett of approximately 3,000 soldiers from coast artillery posts along the Atlantic seaboard, the army's movement of troops to Texas apparently has been completed. The brigade will be held in readiness to move on a moment's notice.

5,000 MINERS OUT ON STRIKE

Bridgeport, Ohio, Mar. 18.—Nearly 5,000 coal miners in eastern Ohio were ordered to lay down their tools at 4 o'clock this afternoon in conformity with a strike order issued by President T. L. Lewis, of the United Mine Workers of America. The strike is called in sympathy with one which has been on in the Tuscarawas district of Ohio since April of 1910. It is said the Tuscarawas operators agreed with the men to pay them according to the Cincinnati agreement and later repudiated their agreement. All efforts made by officers of the miners' organization to adjust the difficulty resulted in failure.

THE EVENING TRIBUNE

Commencing Monday afternoon, the Tribune will enter the afternoon field and the paper will be on the streets at five o'clock in the afternoon instead of in the morning. This step has not been taken without a great deal of consideration and is only taken with the sincere belief that it is the best possible move. The Tribune will continue to carry the Associated Press service, the only reliable international news service, and the state news department will be increased and improved upon materially. There are other improvements contemplated, but they will be announced later. It will seem a little strange at first to get the paper in the evening instead of the morning, but we are sure that it will be a change you will like. As to the readers outside of the city, it will be a great improvement, as an early mail edition will catch the early afternoon trains. To the advertisers we will say that it will be necessary under the new arrangements to get copy for ads in earlier in the day, and the big advertisements—page, half and quarter pages—will probably have to be sent in the day before they are expected to appear. There will be some hitches at the start, but during the week we expect to have things running smoothly, and we are more than sure that everyone will be satisfied with the change.

WOOD PLANNING REORGANIZATION OF REGULAR ARMY

Several Interesting Questions Will be Decided by the Present Maneuvers

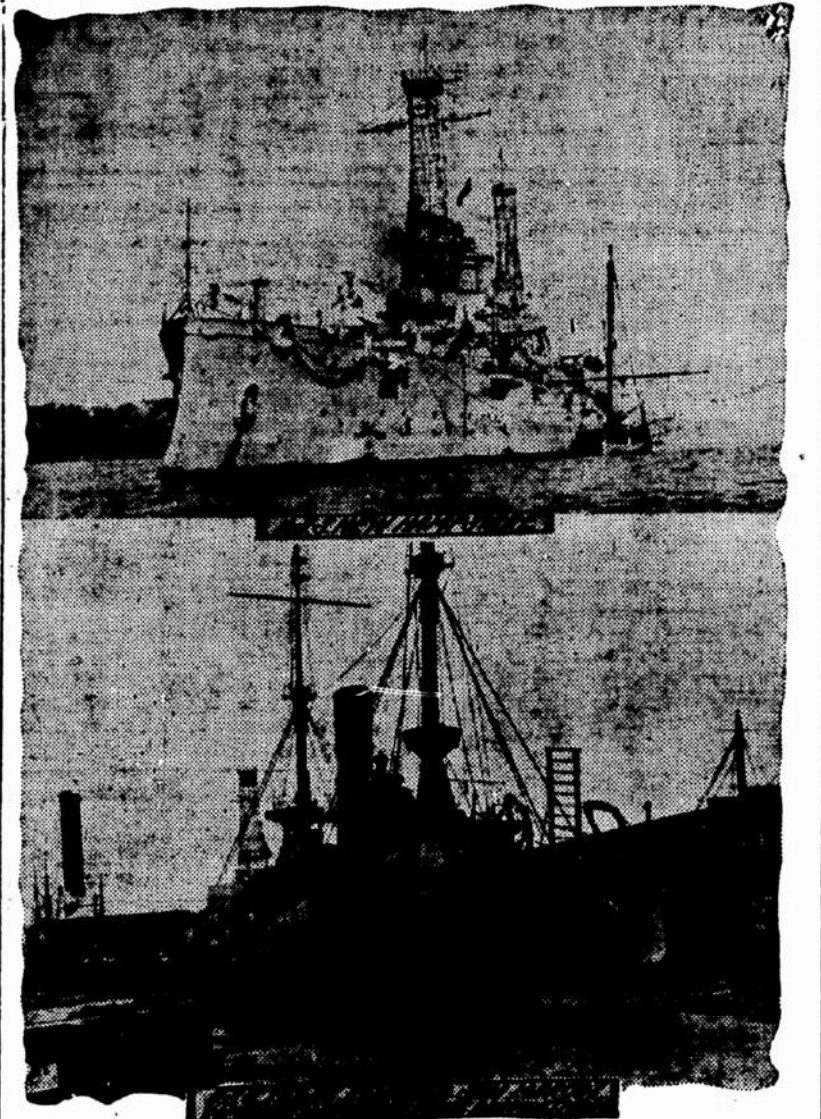

(By Associated Press.)
Washington, D. C., Mar. 18.—One of the principal questions which the war department hopes to settle as a result of the maneuvers in Texas and California is as to whether the army as now organized is provided with an overstock or with insufficient equipment of wagons, tents and supplies of all sorts. This is the question over which there has been a division of opinion among army officers, some holding that the army would be hindered on the march by the large amount of impediments it carries, while others think it should be even more heavily equipped than at present. Major General Leonard Wood, chief of staff of the army, in talking today of the maneuvers, said that another question which was expected to decide was to whether there should be a reorganization of cavalry on another basis. It is contended that this branch of the service should be more in accord with the system in use in several European countries, where the size of cavalry with each division of the army is much smaller than in this country. He explained that on the present army basis a division of troops when on a complete army footing would spread over 11 or 12 miles when marching. For the purpose of determining whether this was too unwieldy a body and whether it could be reduced in certain respects the troops would be formed into complete divisions.

FEDERALS ARE BOTTLED UP

(By Associated Press.)
Presidio, Texas, March 18.—Eleven federal soldiers and two insurgents were killed today in the siege of Ojinaga. With a river ford between Presidio and the besieged city in their possession and the town surrounded, bottling up the main body of federal troops, the rebel forces are centering their attention on two abode towns on the Canada Ranch on the outskirts of Ojinaga where forty soldiers are virtually held prisoners and on a guard post near the river crossing held by the federals. For twenty-four hours firing at close range has been almost continuous.

OLD "HOODOO" BATTLESHIP TEXAS TO BE RIDDLED WITH SHOT MARCH 20, AS TARGET FOR THE NEW HAMPSHIRE

Washington, D. C., Mar. 18.—The firing upon the battleship San Marcos, formerly the Texas, will take place Monday, Mar. 20, near Tangier island, Chesapeake bay. The attack will be made by the battleship New Hampshire, the purpose being to demonstrate the accuracy of the present system of "spotting," meaning the precise checking off of the place where every projectile strikes. This will be followed by other tests, notably the firing of armor piercing projectiles with delayed action fuses, calculated to explode the projectile behind the armor. As the Texas this well known war craft won the title of "the hoodoo ship of the navy" owing to the many accidents she encountered, running aground several times, etc.; also an explosion in a turret killed several of her men.

TROOP TRAIN WAITING WITH STEAM UP TO GO TO BORDER ANY MOMENT

Southern Pacific Yards at San Antonio Cleared for Government
In Case of Invasion of Mexico no Gales Will be Used for Gateway
(By Associated Press.)
San Antonio, Tex., Mar. 18.—The air was electrical tonight with rumors of important developments in Mexico and of the movement of the maneuver division to the border. The return of Jose Yves Limantour to Mexico in part accounted for this. A newspaper man who returned tonight that sensational development were to be expected. He stated that the story of the stoning of Diaz's palace was untrue. At the maneuver camp nearly every preparation was a denial of the story of mere drill and tactics. Eight tracks have been cleared in the Southern Pacific yards and "skids" and runways have been constructed so that the unloading of eight troop trains can be effected simultaneously. The entire yard has been cleaned of "junk" so that nothing will hinder the regular army in the event of an emergency call. That these eight tracks are at the "disposal" of the government was admitted tonight by officials of the Southern Pacific who in the same breath told of the "bedding" of a lot of stock cars that are being stored in the Southern Pacific yards. A second official said that a representative of the government asked him if, in the event the shipment of horses, now many animals could be loaded into the ordinary thirty-six or forty foot box cars. Inquiry was also made if the road would undertake to handle soldiers in box cars in an emergency. A train said to be destined to carry troops to Nogales, Ariz., on the Mexican border was made up at the army yards here tonight. It consists of nine tourist and two standard sleepers, a kitchen car and baggage car.

LIMANTOUR EMISSARY OF PEACE

Stated that he Bears Important Messages from the Revolutionists

Insurgents are Urged not to Place any Obstacles in Way of His Train

(By Associated Press.)
New York, Mar. 18.—The Mexican vice consul here, Manuel A. Esteve, made a long statement to the press today, in which he unexpectedly confirmed the understanding that Senor Limantour, Mexican minister of finance, is the bearer of important proposals from the insurgents to the administration.

"Permit me to say," he urged, "that it seems to me a great mistake for the newspapers to print from day to day rumors from the Texas border as to whether Limantour will be permitted to make the journey safely across Mexico. He is returning to Mexico with important plans with respect to reforms and the general improvement of the country." This face, the vice consul argues, should be regarded as of the greatest importance, but the publication of rumors that the insurgents may burn bridges ahead of Senor Limantour's train, he believes, "might incite individuals who had not thought of such a thing to interfere with his prompt return."

As a matter of fact, it is known that members of the Madero family here have advised Francisco I. Madero, the provisional insurrecto president, not to block Senor Limantour's journey.

One Person Admitted to Car.
San Antonio, Tex., Mar. 18.—Only one person was admitted to the presence of Jose Yves Limantour while the latter's train stopped here this morning. Enrique Ornelas, the Mexican consul here, was granted a short interview while Senor Limantour was dressing. To Consul Ornelas, Senor Limantour said he was going back to Mexico to resume his duties as minister of finance. He was emphatic in declaring that his return at this time had no particular significance.

Refused to See Reporters.
Laredo, Texas, Mar. 18.—Jose Yves Limantour, financier, diplomat and possible future president of Mexico, passed through this city today en route to Mexico City, where he will be a prominent factor in bringing about peace in the republic. Limantour, his wife, son and private secretary composed the party, which left San Antonio this morning in the private car Hidalgo. Immediately preceding the Hidalgo in the train was the private car of Vice President C. R. Hudson, of the national lines of Mexico, and the same order was observed on the Mexican side of the Rio Grande. During the journey from San Antonio Senor Limantour refused to see anybody, including newspaper men, who boarded the train at San Antonio and made every endeavor to obtain an interview.

It was the original intention to send them March 5, but their departure was delayed by sending the Chinese relief expedition on the army transport, Buford, no transport being available. The Third battalion, Second infantry, now at Fort D. A. Russell, Wyo., will sail for Honolulu June 5. Two batteries of field artillery will sail for the islands on July 5.
