

"LIAR" SHOUTED IN CONGRESS

Alabama Member Enraged by Remark of Representative Mann.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE LEADS TO CLASH

Bitter Colloquy of Session Goes on Record, Despite Effort of Expunging.

From The Tribune Bureau. Washington, Oct. 10.—The short and ugly word was passed in the House today, when Representative Mann, the minority leader, and Representative Hefflin, an impetuous Alabamian, clashed in the most bitter verbal combat of this session of Congress. The woman suffrage issue caused the war of words, which became so heated that one sentence of Mr. Mann's remarks was stricken from the record by formal vote.

"I pronounce the gentleman from Illinois a liar!" shouted Mr. Hefflin when the minority leader asserted that the Alabama had delivered two years ago an anti-suffrage speech which "caused nearly every man in the House to blush for shame and was an insult to womanhood."

Mr. House was in great confusion. Democrats calling for the expunging of Mr. Mann's statements and the Republicans demanding that Mr. Hefflin be called to order.

Mr. Stafford, a Wisconsin Republican, demanded the suppression of Mr. Hefflin, and Mr. Mann, angry, but with self-possession, said: "Let him alone. I do not bother me. I do not wonder that the gentleman from Alabama is tender of criticism. If I had made that speech against womanhood I would have been glad to hear of it. It is a credit to him now that he resents reference to it, for it is the best sign I have seen exhibited by the gentleman that he has a conscience and a memory."

Republicans Hoot Derision. Amid hoots of derision from the Republican side Mr. Hefflin shot his finger at the minority leader and said: "You do not want to use any more such language about me today on the floor of this House."

Mr. Hefflin had hotly addressed the chair a short while ago, saying: "I protest against this cowardly man using such expressions about me." The row was incident to Mr. Mann's amendment to the Philippine independence bill to require the woman suffrage to be voted on by the people. Mr. Mann declared that "she ought to have been at home." Majority members at that time reminded Mr. Mann of his conversion to the suffrage cause, and he, receding from the chair, said: "I thought it was better for the young girl to be at home than in the parade for fear the gentleman from Alabama might have seen her. He would have been sure to insult her."

"I demand that the words be taken down!" shouted Mr. Hefflin and Mr. Mann in concert. The "taking down" process, the meaning of the stenographer's notes from the desk, was ordered.

Stenographer Vindicated. Messrs. Mann, Miller and Townner, Republicans, said the transcript quoted above was not literally correct. The House voted on the correctness of the "taken down" remarks, and by a vote of 219 to 191 Mr. Mann was declared to have uttered the words attributed to him by the stenographer. Mr. Hay then moved that this sentence be stricken from the record. It was carried, 152 to 106.

Representative Garner, of Texas, said the whole performance had been unseemly, and asked unanimous consent to expunge everything said during the heated colloquy. The elimination of Mr. Hefflin's use of the word "liar," "I think the entire record had better stand as it is. This suffrage fight will be a long one," said Mr. Mann, and the colloquy became a part of the record.

EDISON LOOKING AT PERISCOPE ON SUBMARINE.

EDISON HAS NEW SUBMARINE PLAN

Continued from page 1. Edison's new submarine plan is aimed for the great guns were swank and aimed for them. They were taken down steep ladders through manholes into the most vital parts of the ship—even into the central station, which is the brain of the ship in action, from which the fire control is directed.

Here lie the deepest secrets of the navy in the mass of electrical apparatus, paraphernalia and switches, which are controlled by the fire control. It was only on the specific order of Secretary Daniels that the party was allowed to enter it. The thing that most interested Edison on that day was the Sperry gyroscopic compass he found there.

After the tour was over Secretary Daniels said that it was entirely official and that Mr. Edison was not working on any special devices for the navy. Speaking of teaching a submarine to utilize water like a fish, Mr. Daniels was asked if Mr. Edison approved of his order abolishing the wine menu.
